

WORD PICTURES IN THE NEW TESTAMENT: VOLUME VI THE GENERAL EPISTLES and THE REVELATION OF JOHN ARCHIBALD THOMAS ROBERTSON

Next (Book of Thomas the Contender). The Book of Revelation, also called Revelation to John or Apocalypse of John, is the last canonical book of the New Testament in the Christian Bible. It is the only biblical book that is almost wholly composed of apocalyptic literature. Other apocalypses popular in the early Christian era did not achieve canonical status, although 2 Esdras (The Apocalypse of Ezra) is canonical in the Russian Orthodox and Ethiopian Orthodox Churches. The Book of Revelation (also called the Apocalypse of John, Revelation to John or Revelation from Jesus Christ) is the final book of the New Testament, and consequently is also the final book of the Christian Bible. Its title is derived from the first word of the Koine Greek text: apokalypsis, meaning "unveiling" or "revelation." The Book of Revelation is the only apocalyptic book in the New Testament canon. Thus, it occupies a central place in Christian eschatology. Chapter 1: Introduction to the New Testament.Â The First, Second, and Third Epistles General of John and the General Epistle of Jude.
